Dog of the Month – Siberian Husky

Siberian huskies are thick-coated, medium-sized dogs that were bred by the Chukchi people in Northeast Asia to pull dog sleds. While still used in the sport of mushing, they are also popular as family pets. Huskies are excellent hunters, runners, and sled-pullers, but they're also extremely friendly, affectionate, and loyal.

To keep warm in subzero temperatures, these often blue-eyed dogs have a double coat of fur—one short, dense layer for extra warmth, plus a longer, water-resistant coat. Their fur ranges in color from white, black, and gray to red, sable, and tan.

These energetic, highly vocal dogs also have long, fluffy tails that double as scarves on super cold nights. Despite their similar appearance, they are not part wolf. Some cultural traditions associate huskies with protection and prosperity.

Flower – Carnation

The carnation is the flower for January. Also known as a clove pink, this versatile flower is a species of the genus Dianthus, a term that means "divine flower" in Greek. Carnations are native to the Mediterranean and have been cultivated for over 2,000 years. The festive, sweet-scented blooms were used in ancient Greek and Roman ceremonial crowns and now come in a rainbow of colors, including pink, purple, blue, yellow, green, orange, white, and striped.

Birthstone – Garnet

The garnet is both the birthstone for January and the gem to celebrate a second anniversary. Though it's most frequently known for its brilliant red coloration, the garnet also grows—as crystals inside metamorphic rock—in a range of colors, including orange, fuchsia, yellow, and even blue. According to the Gemological Institute of America, rarer still is the green garnet, known as a tsavorite, found outside a national park in Kenya in 1967. Use any color of this stone to celebrate your favorite January birth or anniversary.

Show Your Birthday Colors!

Orange (Jan. 1–10)

You and your goal-oriented personality tend to ring in the new year with a list of resolutions. What's more, you often accomplish them all! You are a responsible and caring person. It can sometimes take a while for you to warm up to new people, but when you do, you become friends for life.

Yellow (Jan. 11–24)

Your sweet demeanor makes you a joy to be around, and your friends and family love having such a dependable companion. A logical and thoughtful person, you generally make the right choice at the right time. For this reason, those around you often seek you out for advice.

Pink (Jan. 25–31)

You have a great sense of humor and a sensitive soul. You are a hard worker and give every task your all. Those close to you know they can count on you to help them get the job done—and that caring for others is your top priority. Just make sure you don't forget to take care of yourself in this new year.

Happy New Year to all!

Riddle Me This January

You see me once in New Year, twice in January, but not at all in winter.

What am I?

ANSWER: The letter A

January Zodiacs

Capricorn (Sea Goat)
January 1–19

Aquarius (Water Bearer)
January 20–31

January 1 marks the first date of each new year thanks to the Gregorian calendar introduced by Pope Gregory XIII in 1582. This new calendar was adopted throughout the British empire (and its American colonies) in 1753. January is named after Janus, the god of gateways and beginnings, depicted as a two-headed man looking forward and backward simultaneously. It is the only month with more than one U.S. federal holiday: New Year's Day and MLK Day.
